CONCEPT DESIGN

Adhering to geographical conditions, paying attention to the climate, nature and the surrounding environment and integrating the building with the earth, water, wind, rain and sun, properly exploiting the design and environment. The walls of the schools are considered as the body and facade of the city, therefore, in this design, by combining full and empty walls, while maintaining the privacy of the school space, we tried to create a diverse wall by predicting green spaces around the wall in a modular way for the environment. provide a city The urban wall of the school with a small backyard for each class creates an indirect relationship for the students with the urban space.

The retreat of the urban wall of the school at the entrance is planned to create a distance between urban traffic nodes and the entry and exit of students from the school. Volume design based on separation of function and use of space.

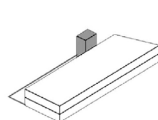

Examining the adjacencies and zoning of spaces, taking into account the values of Iranian architecture (with the influence of time and modern technology), Iranian culture and identity. Single layer and the possibility of two-way ventilation for spaces, especially classes

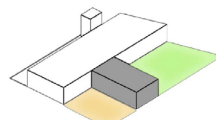

The setback of the building - definition of the entrance

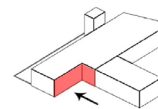

East-west extension

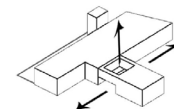

Using traditional element- respecting the texture of Bandar Kong

Splitting the school into two courtyards in order to separate the play area for big and small children make the yard bigger for children

Creating an interaction space between two courtyards for visual communication
